Analog unifon

NVE-2A-HS100

The NVE-2A-HS100 analog handset is a reliable communication device designed for intercom systems in residential and commercial buildings. It provides convenient voice communication and quick door-release functionality, ensuring user comfort and security. The handset is fully compatible with the NVE-2A-SW100-LAN analog switch, enabling stable operation and seamless integration with existing installations. With its robust construction, clear audio quality, and intuitive controls, the NVE-2A-HS100 delivers dependable everyday performance and easy handling of system functions.

Device type	Analog unifon
Mounting type	Surface
Operating temperature	from -30 to 60 °C
Color	Signal White (RAL9003)